

Praying for Hurting People:

- Help me understand and have Godly compassion for hurting people.
- Keep me from coming to this ministry with a judgmental attitude or an attitude of superiority.
- Teach me to discern the real issues that need to be addressed with hurting people.
- Help me separate between what hurting people may have done and who they are in Christ.
- Help me to see hurting people as You see them, Lord.
- Help me to represent Christ to them
- Fill me with Your love for them.
- Define my role in their lives so that Your boundaries are in place.
- Keep my own past or present woundedness from interfering with my ministry to hurting people.
- Keep me from self-reliance.

Praying for Others

Many times, we focus on "visible", specific needs while neglecting "invisible" aspects of Christian life and growth. I have taken these four prayers of Paul from Scripture and listed the issues he felt were important to be praying about for his friends. I believe that this type of "pro-active" (as opposed to "reactive" praying based on current physical needs or crises) should be included as we uphold other believers in prayer.
